Overview

The Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences is home to the Psychology Program at the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff. The Psychology Program provides a curriculum designed to develop a broad foundation of knowledge in the discipline of psychology and to equip students for pursuing careers in a variety of fields, such as mental health, drug/alcohol counseling, community/social services, business, advertising, marketing, and education. Students who major in psychology take a common core of courses to attain a comprehensive knowledge base of the discipline, an understanding of research methods used by psychologists, and hands-on research experience. Thus, an undergraduate degree from our program provides an excellent foundation for graduate study.
